

NORDIC NATURALS WEBINARS

Fish Oil: the Anchor of Orthopedic and Cardiovascular Support

In this one-hour seminar we will review how omega-3 fatty acids in fish oil are strategically utilized as a primary nutritional tool within a comprehensive, customized health and wellness program. Particular attention will be placed on integrative medical and nutritional interventions for addressing musculoskeletal, cardiovascular, and metabolic health. Finally, we will review the model that I utilize in my facilities to maximize patient outcomes and human performance.
